SUDDEN AVALANCHE BRINGS DEATH TO JUNEAU RESIDENTS

One Woman Known Killed—At Least Ten Missing and Nine Others Are in Hospital After Slide of Mud, Timber and Rocks Engulf Buildings in Alaskan City

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 23 (P).—Flames spread through wrecked buildings beneath a great landslide here tonight and hope faded for at least ten missing persons who, rescue crews believed, were trapped under mud, rock and shattered timbers. Only one body, that of Mrs. Gus Erickson, negro, had been recovered and nine injured had been taken to hospital as darkness fell over the jumbled debris from which fire issued fitfully and smoke coiled toward a murky sky.

Rescue efforts centred on the demolished three-story frame Nickerson Apartments where four of those definitely listed as missing were believed buried. Mrs. Erickson's crushed body was removed from behind a stove in a house where she lived with her husband, who was seriously injured and placed in a hospital.

THE MISSING
The known missing were: Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Peterson, who were in the Peterson two-story concrete building when the second—and largest—of the slides struck. Pete Batello, transfer man and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vanni and their daughter, Lorraine, age 3, in the Nickerson Apartments, now buried under debris. Mrs. Fred Malson, wife of a jeweler, who conducted the Malson Rooming House. Mr. and Mrs. James Hoag and her son, Forrest Beaudin, who were in the Nickerson Apartment occupants. The injured were: Mrs. William Loti, negro, partly crushed by a piano in a demolished house.

ASKS RUSSIANS TO SPARE LIFE

German Envoy Seeks Stay Of Execution For Convicted Engineer

MOSCOW, Nov. 23 (AP).—The German ambassador, Count Friedrich von der Schulenburg, tonight for the second time asked N. M. Krestinsky, vice-minister for Foreign Affairs, to spare the life of Ernst Haack, German engineer condemned Sunday to be shot for plotting to wreck the Kamensk-Sibirskian Coal Mines. Because of Sukhina's bold admission of guilt, Moscow diplomats felt tonight, he was doomed to die no matter how strong the German protests.

FEAR FOR OTHERS

The Germans were more gravely concerned over Sukhina's fate because they felt the case might have a direct bearing on the trial of twenty-six other Germans held on similar charges in Moscow, Leningrad and other places. The German embassy further asked permission to visit these prisoners, held incommunicado since their arrest early in November.

The German ambassador first petitioned for clemency or at least a stay of execution for Sukhina, who was sentenced with eight Russians similarly charged with causing the death of fourteen miners in acts of sabotage.

RESULTS NOT DISCLOSED

The results of today's conversations were not disclosed. Sources expressed more optimism that Sukhina will not die. It was reported four Germans were arrested on undisclosed charges Sunday in Moscow, Kiev and elsewhere, bringing the known number of German nationals under arrest to thirty-one.

Mowry, a visitor from Spokane, Wash., reported to police tonight his car had been broken into on a downtown street and a club bag containing $300 in cash, $200 in travelers' cheques, and clothing and personal papers stolen. Mowry said he parked his car and locked it. When he returned a door had been forced open and the club bag taken.

Ships Strike-Bound in Los Angeles Harbor

Like deserted phantom ships of the sea, the vessels shown in the picture are anchored in outer Los Angeles Harbor, where they are forced to remain because of the maritime strike on the Pacific Coast. Other ships, including large passenger liners, are tied up at their docks in the harbor. There are 117 ships tied up in Los Angeles harbor.

Business Conditions in Canada Shown to Be at Highest Level in Years

Statistics for October Show New Records Set in Many Departments

GOLD PRODUCTION IS LARGEST IN HISTORY

OTTAWA, Nov. 23 (P).—Vigorous activity, setting records for the past seventeen years in some departments, boosted the business index for October to the highest point since the start of 1930, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Impressive increases, the bureau said, "were fairly general." Shipments from gold mines were "greater than in any month in history" and "zinc exports were greater than in any other October."

The index rose from 1153 at the end of September to slightly more than 120 as twenty-seven of thirty-one factors showed advances. Excess of exports over imports was 39.5 per cent. Declines were in copper exports, automobile and truck production, contract awards and building permits.

MANY LONG-TIME PEAKS

Among the long-time peaks were: Index of manufacturing production highest in any month since July, 1929; index of cigarette releases highest of any October since the post-war period; manufacture

The Governor-General had eighteen minutes to spare on reaching Edmonton.

Privy Council Judges Hear Argument on Validity of Marketing Act—Suggestion of British Columbia's Counsel Amuses Committee

LONDON, Nov. 23 (P).—The judicial committee of the Privy Council reserved decision today on one Canadian constitutional appeal, and began hearing argument on another. Judgment was reserved as to the validity of the weekly wages act and the Limitation of Hours of Work Act.

Argument was begun concerning the Natural Products Marketing Act of 1934 and the Natural Products Marketing Act Amending Act of 1935. The Supreme Court of Canada ruled that this was invalid.

Fog-Bound Vancouver Motorists Abandon Cars in Streets

VANCOUVER, Nov. 23 (P).—Shipping traffic on Vancouver's harbor was practically at a standstill tonight and scores of automobiles stood deserted on the streets as one of the worst fogs in the city's history settled down. Only activity on the waterfront was the regular ferry service to West and North Vancouver.

Police traffic department reported a few minor smashups in the fog but there were no major accidents. No one was injured. Police telephones rang continuously as automobile owners sought to determine if it would be against the law to leave their cars on city streets all night. Safety first was the police answer.

Two Sacks of Registered Mail Stolen From Truck—Police Investigating

VANCOUVER, Nov. 24.—Royal Canadian Mounted Police, early today were investigating the theft of two sacks of registered mail from a Royal Mail truck here. The value of the mail was unknown.

City police began investigating the case after the postal department reported the two sacks missing from one of their trucks last night. The robbery is believed to have taken place while one of the trucks was momentarily parked at a street corner. The case was later turned over to the R.C.M.P.

Fear Ship Lost With Seventeen

ST. JOHN'S, Nov. 23 (P).—Agents of the Shaw Steamship Company expressed fear tonight the St. Bern, thirty-five days out of Glasgow bound for Montreal and Toronto, had foundered with her crew of seventeen.

Failure to receive any reports from the vessel, which should have made the crossing in about thirteen days, caused the alarm. The captain and crew are Norwegians. The Bern is a vessel of about 2,000 tons gross.

LABOR TROUBLE GROWS SERIOUS

French Premier Calls Cabinet Meeting as Strikes Continue to Spread

PARIS, Nov. 23 (P).—Premier Blum tonight summoned his Cabinet to meet the threat of spreading strikes in which workmen occupied many plants.

As the call for the Cabinet session went out, ministers faced these industrial developments:

Eleven workers were injured in a clash between strikers and non-strikers at a Paris soap factory.

Heavy forces of the mobile guard patrolled the Lille factory district where 750 metal workers on strike occupied forty-five factories.

MANY FACTORIES CLOSED
A total of 11,000 strikers were reported out in the North department with forty factories affected in addition to those at Lille. In the cities of Roubaix and Tourcoing a majority of the metallurgical plants were occupied by strikers.

In another section of the capital Col Francoise de la Rochette submitted to long questioning at the Palace of Justice in magistrate's proceedings to determine if his French Social Party is the dissolved Croix de Feu in another guise.

The Rightist leader did not comment on the examination but his lieutenant declared if they were in a tug dissolved they will reform in some other manner.

ADVOCATES RETURN OF FORMER COLONIES

NORTHAMPTON, Nov. 23 (P).—Sir Oswald Mosley, British Fascist leader, tonight advocated British return the colonies stripped from Germany after the Great War. Such action, he said, would be "a contribution to peace and justice."

He said that as Chancellor Hitler had repeatedly asserted, Germany needs raw materials and that any way the colonies in question "are British."

A Foreign Office spokesman made the announcement, the first admission from Germany that the Russian assertions were true.

The spokesman said, however, there was no written agreement between the two nations, and that therefore a pact, in the diplomatic sense of the word, did not exist.

Conversations, he said, had taken place, he said, and they indicated they were regarded as official.

No Spanish Warship Can Halt and Search British Merchantmen on High Seas—Intimation Given of Anglo-Belgian Warning to France on Sending Munitions to Spain

Will Legislate to Prevent British Ships Carrying Arms

LONDON, Nov. 23 (P).—An intimation that Great Britain and Belgium had warned the French Government they would not aid France were she to be involved in war through sending arms to Spain came from a French source tonight after Foreign Secretary Eden had told the House of Commons "The policy of His Majesty's Government is to take no part in the Spanish war and to give no assistance to either side in the struggle."

Eden made known the Government's decision not to grant belligerency status to either party in the Spanish civil war, and he announced the House would be invited to pass legislation making illegal the carrying of arms to Spain in British ships.

REVEALED BY EDITOR

Word of the reported Anglo-Belgian warning to France was brought to London by Jean Longuet, editor of Premier Blum's party organ, Le Populaire, who asserted this was responsible for Blum's recent assertion he would scrap the non-intervention agreement and sign a new campaign against what they termed "massacres" by the Spanish insurgents.

Anxiety continued over the question of just what blow up the Spanish warship Miguel de Cervantes in Cartagena harbor, over the week end.

MADRID HAS QUIET SPELL

Artillery Duel Continues but Little Change in Main Battle Lines

(Copyright, 1936, by Hava News Agency)
MADRID, Nov. 23 (CP-Havas).—Insurgent forces were reported continuing south and east of this capital tonight in preparation for an offensive against the village of Arganda, which commands the Madrid-Valencia Road.

Bodies of seventy printers and pressmen had been recovered tonight from the ruins of a newspaper plant near San Bernardo Street destroyed by insurgent bombs. Remains of twenty other victims were believed still buried.

RELATIVELY QUIET

A communique late tonight indicated a relatively quiet day in the struggle for Madrid, with the artillery duel continuing, but with no significant changes in the main lines.

While the Madrid Government was making its charges of foreign intervention in the Spanish civil war, the Fascist insurgents renewed their land and air bombardments of the beleaguered city.

Six shells struck the heart of the city. One aerial incendiary bomb fell in the War Ministry courtyard. Four automobiles nearby were wrecked. Fire broke out, but was extinguished with little damage. Several milliammen were wounded and many windows shattered by the explosion.

IN MAIN SQUARE

Other shells fell in the Puerta Del Sol, the city's main square, the Plaza Del Carmen and the Plaza de Bilbao.

Fuelled air raiders, kept on the ground by several days of cloudy weather, wheeled over the capital again today, but confined their activities mostly to dropping propaganda leaflets.

Ten of Madrid's 300 regular firemen were killed fighting fires which on one recent day took 123 lives. Fifteen other firemen were injured.

IN NEUTRAL ZONE

One bomb was reported to have landed in the so-called "neutral zone" where are most of the embassies, alarming the foreign legations there.

"AT SAINT JEAN DE LUZ" Spanish Government sources said an offensive was launched to recapture the Basque-held cities of Tolosa and San Sebastian along the Biscayan front.

DUTCH QUEEN CELEBRATES

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Nov. 23 (P).—Queen Wilhelmina tonight began her forty-seventh year on the throne she ascended as a ten-year-old girl.

So the bespectacled and hairy Dr. Sargha had himself to bed at an early hour, professing impatience at the delay but confident his knotted sword-arm would right his offended honor on Tuesday.

PISTOLS PERHAPS

The three men declared "until" they were allowed to the court of honor to settle their little disputes with pistols. Dr. Sargha said that was O.K. with him, but his seconds declared new protocols and challenges would have to be drawn if such a decision were reached.

Each of the nine duels must be settled within forty-eight hours after the first sabre is whirled.

Attack by Foreign Warships Charge of Spanish Government

Definite Accusations Made of Aid Given by German and Italian Vessels, Including Hostilities Against Units of Loyal Fleet

VALENCIA, Nov. 23 (CP-Havas).—The Spanish Government charged tonight German and Italian warships constantly had followed, spied upon and had even attacked units of the Government fleet in Mediterranean and Atlantic waters since last July.

The statement also attributed sea attacks to the German submarine U-53, which was reported to have attacked the Spanish cruiser Miguel de Cervantes in Cartagena harbor, to "at least two submarines of a foreign squadron." Examination of torpedo fragments pointed to a projectile used by Germany, the communique intimated.

Detailed accusations, with names and dates, were listed in an official communique issued late tonight by the Naval Ministry. The communique said:

"It was not necessary to await recognition of the Franco Government by Berlin and Rome to know that warships of these two nations had since last July aided in violation of their neutrality obligations and that they had aided the small number of Spanish 'squadron' units in the hands of the insurgents."

PRINCE OF NEPAL ROBBED OF GEMS

Rumored Theft of Jewels Worth $50,000 From Indian Potentate in England

LONDON, Nov. 23 (P).—A burglar, who apparently shinnied up a thirty-foot drainpipe, took jewelry valued at nearly £10,000 ($50,000) from the Hampshire home of the Prince of Nepal tonight.

It was one of the biggest robberies reported to Scotland Yard in recent years.

Among the stolen jewelry was a double-shouldered pearl necklace valued at £2,000 ($10,000).

The Prince (Major-General Bhabhu Shumsher) is en route to his home in India. The Princess and servants, who were downstairs, reported they heard no sound from the ransacked upstairs bedroom.

Federation of Labor Votes to Continue Rebels' Suspension

Craft Versus Industrial Unionism Remains Fundamental Issue With No Progress at Convention Made Toward Settling Differences

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 23 (AP).—The American Federation of Labor Convention tonight voted to continue indefinitely the suspension of John L. Lewis' ten rebel unions. At the same time the convention decided:

- (1) To renew the federation executive council's offer to talk peace with the rebels, suspended September 5 for "insurrection."
- (2) To give the executive council power to call a special federation convention to expel the rebels if peace efforts collapse.

WANT ORDER REVOKED
Pro-Lewis delegates heatedly protested against this policy, recommended by the convention's resolution committee. They wanted the suspension lifted.

Old-line leaders, with their large block of votes, easily shouted down the opposition, however.

They said they were willing and eager to talk peace, but could not countenance rebellion without punishment.

The delegates' vote left the relationship between the A.F. of L. and Lewis' rebel faction in their pre-convention state.

WOULD TALK PEACE
Lewis says he is willing to talk peace after the rebels are reinstated. Federation leaders are willing to talk peace at any time, but will not reinstate the rebels, they say, until they dissolve their committee for industrial organization.

The fundamental issue—craft versus industrial unionism—was not settled when he admitted a part in slaying two Seattle policemen a year ago Thanksgiving Day, and then pleaded with Judge Robert M. Jones for permission to testify before a grand jury about the "slot machine racket."

O'Donnell's testimony attempted to absolve his brother and co-defendant, John J. O'Donnell, of the first-degree murder of Patrolmen Trent A. Sickles and Theodore S. Stevens when they surprised slot machine burglars in a North side bar tavern.

O'Donnell's testimony, however, implicated Lester Borick, John's brother-in-law. Borick turned state's evidence and will get a separate trial.

O'Donnell said "there was a reason for this killing, your honor, but that the state's objections prevented him testifying what it was. The judge took his grand jury request under advisement."

WILL JUDGE AT DRAMA FESTIVAL

Major Bullock-Webster Chosen to Adjudicate at Vancouver This Week

Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, has, at the request of the Greater Vancouver Y.P. Union, arranged for Major L. Bullock-Webster to go to Vancouver to adjudicate at the drama festival being held in the Kitsilano High School Theatre this week.

Under the able management of Frederick H. Fullerton, the entries have become more numerous from year to year, and it is understood that the quality of the plays this year is likely to be higher than in the past.

The constructive nature of the adjudications last year proved popular, and several new groups have taken up dramatic work.

The Y.P. Union of Greater Vancouver is planning to have two drama festivals in the Provincial Drama Festival here next Spring.

This will be the fifth festival at which Major Bullock-Webster has acted as a judge for the Young People's Union of this province.

Last Summer he adjudicated in the Peace River District at the first music and drama festival ever held in the North of the province.

Major Bullock-Webster, who is the president of the B.C. Drama Association, has recently written a series of short articles on the formation and operation of community drama groups.

The remuneration for executors is fixed by Law.

As no two estates are alike, the amount allowed by the Judge in one case would not apply in another. The main thing to consider is that every executor is entitled to compensation.

An individual executor is subject to the usual financial and health hazards. His sources of information are restricted. There are limitations to his training and experience. Generally, he is busy with his own affairs.

This Company, as executor, administers estates with the seasoned judgment of a group of trained officers. Its financial status is secure. Its experience is the result of 38 years of estates administration.

MERCHANTS ASK CHEAPER RATES

Executive of Retail Group Confers With Electric Light Company Here

Pursuant to a resolution passed at a recent meeting of the Victoria Retail Merchants' Association, relative to a reduction of lighting rates for merchants of Victoria, the Victoria executive of the association conferred with officials of the B.C. Electric Railway Company here.

Saturday morning, George R. Matthews, secretary of the Provincial board stated the conference was satisfactory. He said the association's experience with the company in Vancouver had been that company officials were always willing to discuss any matters brought before them, and the Victoria conference was no exception.

While the officials stated they were not in a position to make any definite statement, Mr. Matthews said the members of the Victoria executive felt the company appeared to see the fairness of the claim of the merchants, and the resolution would be given every consideration.

ORGANIZING GROCERS

Before leaving for Vancouver last night, Mr. Matthews stated the local secretary, B. T. Derry, was now giving attention to organizing the grocer section of the city and that negotiations were already under way with a view to ending the so-called "price-war."

Referring to the recent action of the British Columbia Government, setting up direct contact with the Retail Merchants' Association for British Columbia, Mr. Matthews said "It was evidence of the Government's decision to bring in legislation to correct unfair business practices."

Already he said plans were under way to establish committees throughout the Province for the purpose of gathering data.

Mr. Matthews declared he had received a telephone message from one of the big merchandising establishments in Vancouver congratulating the association on its accomplishments with the Government and offering the assistance of the association in any movement designed to put a stop to wholesale selling direct to the consumer.

SURVEY OF CIVIC FINANCES INVITED

"London agents had done a considerable amount of preliminary work prior to our arrival and consequently we were able to begin our work without loss of time. Our first contact was with Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, chartered accountants, representing a special committee appointed by the Insurance Association Investment protective committee. A. H. Elliott and L. W. Kempe, of Price, Waterhouse & Company, carried out an exhaustive investigation of the city's financial structure as set out in statements covering the years 1921 to 1926 and 1930 to 1935, inclusive, which had been previously prepared by your comptroller for investigation by the Provincial Government."

"D. A. Macdonald, the comptroller, attended a number of meetings with these two men, explaining the figures and methods of taxation, etc. While these meetings were in progress, courtesy calls were made on the brokerage houses who distributed our bonds in London when they were originally issued. The object of these calls was to familiarize these houses with the city's problems, so they would be in a position to give intelligent advice to their clients as to the reason for the city's proposals. A call was also made on Sir Arthur Worley, chairman of the investment protective committee."

"When Price, Waterhouse & Company had advanced far enough in their investigation, we were called to a meeting of the special committee. The chairman was G. S. N. Carter, P.I.A. of the Life Association of Scotland. In his opening remarks, he stated the committee desired, as far as possible, to familiarize themselves with local conditions in Victoria, and get a more complete view of the whole background than could be obtained from a mere examination of figures."

MANY QUESTIONS
"Mr. Carter assured us of the committee's desire to give our problems sympathetic consideration. The committee had prepared a questionnaire consisting of fifteen typewritten pages, showing how thoroughly our condition had been investigated. Complete answers were given to every question, in addition to many detailed explanations, and our answers appeared to satisfy the committee."

"They expressed appreciation of the city's action in sending their delegates to lay problems personally before them, and congratulated us upon the method of approach and manner of presentation."

"Further meetings were held from time to time with Price, Waterhouse & Company. On October 22, the committee's decision was given to us, which showed at that time they were not prepared to deal conclusively with our proposals."

"We called on Mr. Carter, and after a very intimate discussion of the whole affair, we elicited from him the opinion that our problem was a domestic one, and that London did not care to take the initiative in view of the danger of establishing a precedent over the Empire."

ARRIVE IN TORONTO

We sailed from Southampton on October 31, arriving in Toronto on November 6. An interview was had with Thomas Bradshaw, president of the North American Life Assurance Company, who is a member of the Dominion Mortgage and Investment Association, and is recognized as one of the leading advisers on municipal finance in the Dominion. A meeting was arranged with Jules Fortin, secretary of the Dominion Mortgage and Investment Association, who, in turn, arranged a meeting of a special committee of the association under chairmanship of Mr. Reid, managing director of the London Life Assurance Company. Bond-holding institutions of New York were also represented.

"We presented our case and left copies of the statements which had been submitted to the London committee. We invited the committee to meet with the necessity for speedy action. Members of the committee appeared to be satisfied that our problem was one that required prompt study and action."

W. P. Bunt May Enter Plea on Wednesday of Irresponsibility for His Acts

William P. Bunt, who was charged in the city police court with having by false pretences obtained money and goods, had additional charges yesterday added to the list against him last week. Yesterday morning four new charges were called, making a total of seven in all for which he has to answer.

A J. Patton appeared as counsel for the accused yesterday and asked that he might be excused from pleading until Wednesday, to which date he asked a remand. This was acceded to. Mr. Patton suggested that the plea of being irresponsible for his acts might be offered.

The charges entered yesterday against Bunt, who has on occasion posed as a preacher, were obtaining by false pretences of $35 in cash from Ray's; from Price & Smith, $450 in goods and $8 in cash; from W. & J. Wilson, $5 in goods and $7 in cash, and from John Christie, $6 in goods and $650 in cash.

"When the big slide struck, citizens, army men and firemen rushed to the scene and immediately set about the giant task of removing the clogging mud, broken timbers and jagged rocks which engulfed two apartment houses, a lodging-house, the Peterson store and several small frame houses."

"In conclusion, your committee wishes to express its keen appreciation of the courteous treatment accorded to it. We feel that our mission will result in a solution, satisfactory both to the bondholders and to the taxpayers." Mayor Leeming declared.

REPORT ADOPTED
A special meeting of the council was held in the evening to consider the report of the London delegation, and the report was adopted with only passing comment.

Alderman James Adam moved adoption and said: "If this scheme goes through, Mr. Mayor, I shall be one of the first to congratulate you and your colleagues."

The Mayor: "It will go through alright."

Alderman Walter Luney, seconding the motion to adopt, remarked: "In seconding the motion, I might add that you and your associates not only have helped the refunding scheme of this municipality, but you have improved the standing of all municipalities in the Province. The financial authorities are keen to have municipalities kept solvent, and they will see that there is no default and will eventually come to our assistance. I feel certain you will meet success within the next month or two."

The council, after adopting the report without a dissenting vote, officially invited Jules Fortin, of the London Life Insurance Company, to come to Victoria to investigate financial matters in connection with the refunding scheme. The mayor stated Mr. Fortin would be in Victoria on November 29.

WATERFRONT IS PICKETED

Entire Membership of I.L.A. On Line in Mainland Port

VANCOUVER, Nov. 23 (C)—Vancouver's waterfront was picketed today for the first time since the summer of 1935 as members of the International Longshoremen's Association here put into effect the strike they announced Saturday.

According to William Taylor, spokesman for the I.L.A. group of about 300 members, the entire union membership is on the "picket" line, which stretches from end to end of the waterfront.

"PICKET PEACEFULLY"
Police were notified of intention to picket peacefully, but no additional police have been posted on the harbor.

Meanwhile, loading operations were continuing at top speed. Almost 1,100 men were dispatched this morning from headquarters of the British Columbia Shipping Federation to work deep-sea vessels now in port. The B.C.S.F. has no affiliation with United States unions.

Officials of British Columbia Steamships and Union Steamship Company reported their lines unaffected by the I.L.A. walkout. Both lines report large numbers of young farmers have arrived from the interior of the province, who are willing to work ships in the event of a widespread strike.

HOLD CONFERENCE
This morning officials of the local I.L.A. conferred with members of the Vancouver and District Waterfront Workers' Union, the organization which tied up Vancouver harbor in 1935.

No announcement was made following the meeting. The Vancouver and District Union has not controlled longshore operations there since the 1935 walkout.

MORE CHARGES HAVE BEEN LAID

W. P. Bunt May Enter Plea on Wednesday of Irresponsibility for His Acts

William P. Bunt, who was charged in the city police court with having by false pretences obtained money and goods, had additional charges yesterday added to the list against him last week. Yesterday morning four new charges were called, making a total of seven in all for which he has to answer.

A J. Patton appeared as counsel for the accused yesterday and asked that he might be excused from pleading until Wednesday, to which date he asked a remand. This was acceded to. Mr. Patton suggested that the plea of being irresponsible for his acts might be offered.

The charges entered yesterday against Bunt, who has on occasion posed as a preacher, were obtaining by false pretences of $35 in cash from Ray's; from Price & Smith, $450 in goods and $8 in cash; from W. & J. Wilson, $5 in goods and $7 in cash, and from John Christie, $6 in goods and $650 in cash.

SEEK RECALL OF SEATTLE MAYOR

SEATTLE, Nov. 23 (AP)—Mayor John F. Dore branded the recall petition filed against him today as "just plain bunk" and said he welcomed a fight over his administration.

Dore's adversaries filed the petition charging malfeasance and misfeasance and violation of his oath of office, and asked Corporation Counsel A. Y.W.C.A. Realizes Gratifying Result From Annual Drive

Total of $3,886.75 Reported, at Canvassers' Final Rally Yesterday Afternoon, for Seven Days' Finance Campaign With Objective of $5,000

ALTHOUGH the $5,000 objective is not yet realized, the termination yesterday of the actual canvass in the finance campaign of the Young Women's Christian Association was considered highly gratifying, showing a total cash collection for the week of $3,886.75. The finals will inevitably show a higher total, as a number of prospects have still to be heard from.

The complete results will be made known at a meeting to be held at the home of Dr. Olga Jardine, 30 Douglas Street, on the afternoon of Friday, December 4, after all reports are in and the figures checked.

The last of a series of campaign meetings was held yesterday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A., when the various teams brought in their cash returns as follows: "A" Division, Mrs. Richard Felton, convener; Mrs. E. P. Fox's team, twenty-three subscribers, $70.50; Mrs. J. Walker, four subscribers, $89; Mrs. Norah L. Wallace, twenty-two subscribers, $48; Mrs. Helen Hamilton, eleven subscribers, $46.50; "B" Division, Dr. Olga Jardine, convener; Mrs. J. M. Paterson's team, twenty-five subscribers, $59; Mrs. E. W. Hetherington, eleven subscribers, $24; Mrs. A. W. Mackenzie, nineteen subscribers, $70; Mrs. J. L. M. Anderson, five subscribers, $11. Miscellaneous: Mrs. Roy Angus, seven subscribers, $55.50. Special names 145 subscribers, $995.50.

TOTALS FOR WEEK
With the above figures, the totals for the respective canvassers for the entire week stand as follows:

"A" Division: Mrs. E. P. Fox, forty-one subscribers, $152; Mrs. J. Walker, thirty-three subscribers, $194; Mrs. Norah L. Wallace, eighty-eight subscribers, $281; Mrs. Helen Hamilton, sixty-one subscribers, $220.50; "B" Division: Mrs. J. M. Paterson, forty-two subscribers, $177.75; Mrs. E. W. Hetherington, fifty-four subscribers, $213.50; Mrs. J. L. M. Anderson, forty-eight subscribers, $143; Mrs. Roy Angus, twenty-three subscribers, $150.25. Special names: Mrs. H. M. Cassidy, 128 subscribers, $1220.75.

Included in Mrs. Walker's team report, yesterday, was the subscription from Mrs. W. B. George, Arm Street, who realized the net sum of $84 from the two parties she held Friday and Saturday evenings. A complete statement of these was submitted at the meeting this morning as follows:

RARE DISEASE TAKES VICTIM

Boy Scouts Work Twelve Hours in Fight Against Ascending Paralysis

Ascending paralysis, a rare disease, claimed a victim in a sanatorium, near Sidney, on Saturday. Sunder Singh, a Sikh, was stricken with the malady early Saturday morning and died in twelve hours.

Dr. H. G. Burden, who was in charge of the case, stated it was the first case of ascending paralysis he had personally treated. The disease, he said, was somewhat similar to creeping paralysis, but more rapid in its spread over the human body.

In the absence of a mechanical respirator, Scoutmaster Freeman King and Scout John Gorton administered artificial respiration from 8 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock at night in a losing battle with death. They worked in relays, but the disease finally attacked the heart, and Sunder Singh passed away. The two volunteers were from Sidney.

ATTACK BY FOREIGN WARSHIPS CHARGED

"The loyal fleet was constantly spied upon by foreign ships in strategic positions permitting them to follow its movements and communicate them immediately to the insurgent forces. Moreover, indications which were quite clear permit us to affirm that air attacks against several Mediterranean cities were based on an identical service of espionage."

"In this it is more suitable to make specific statements. On August 4 a Government fleet planned to attack Ceuta when the German cruiser Deutschland appeared there at anchor, having arrived before us and taken a place before the Nacho Fortress."

"This obliged the Government fleet to abandon the operation, which was destined to check the transportation of troops by preventing them from embarking at this port for the insurgent army."

"During the time the Republican fleet remained at Malaga (Mediterranean port) until the middle of September, a German cruiser or a destroyer appeared in this port and broadcast to the enemy all movements of our ships. During the nights of bombardment the German warship appeared brightly illuminated, indicating accurately the geographical layout of the city and making futile the darkness of our nights."

EXCHANGED WATCHES
"An Italian warship did the same as the German ship on the night of the Junkers' raid on Alicante. The Italian warships exchanged watches alternately with German warships."

"When the loyal fleet was on the Cantabrian (Biscay) coast and left Gijon for Bilbao, it was followed by a German cruiser until it arrived at Bilbao on the evening of September 26. The next day the loyal fleet, operating on the Guipuzcoa coast, was closely watched by the same cruiser which appeared on Ondarroa conveying a cable carrier under the same flag."

"The manner in which this ship manoeuvred persuaded us it was the one which mined the port of Bilbao, inasmuch as the rebels had not ships capable of laying mines in such a position."

NIGHT BOMBARDMENTS
"During recent nights, night bombardments have occurred from the sea along several points on the southeastern coast, and several Spanish ships loaded with provisions were sunk in the Mediterranean. Two of those attacks were attributed to the rebel cruiser La Canarias."

"Reasons sufficiently sound permit us to believe that one single warship could not have performed all these operations, inasmuch as its presence was ascertained at various times at a position far distant from the attacks. It is indeed logical to assert that many of the attacks, which were favored by darkness, were committed by foreign warships."

TORPEDO ATTACK
"Torpedoes launched at the Mendez missed their goal, one of them hit the Miguel de Cervantes on the armored band just below the starboard spar deck, causing important damages. The two Republican cruisers were some distance apart. In view of the short interval between the two shots, it seems that there were at least two submarines, and that they belonged certainly to a foreign squadron inasmuch as all Spanish submarines are still loyal."

"After the attack a German destroyer boat and ship 15,070,065, at some distance, approached the entrance of the port to learn the results of the attack and then immediately sailed away."

During the giant demonstration in Moscow, when the Soviet celebrated the nineteenth year of the revolution, detachments of the Red Army were shown parading past the tomb of Lenin, seen on the right. Dictator Josef Stalin reviewed the country's armed forces.

CREATE GROUP FOR BUILDERS

New Committee of Chamber Of Commerce to Assist Home-Building Plan

A "builders' group" was formed within the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of directors yesterday. Thirty-three members of the chamber are eligible for this group.

James Parfitt was elected chairman of the following committee: D. W. Burnett, J. N. Anderson, J. O. Cameron and Alderman Edward Williams.

Directors asked that they take as their immediate work the furtherance of the National Employment Commission's home building plan.

Hon. Norman M. Rogers, Minister of Labor, on his recent visit to Victoria, appealed to the chamber to assist the plan.

REPORTS INTERVIEW
The building scheme and its relations were well outlined in material prepared by the banks for distribution to the public. G. H. Stevens advised the meeting.

Harold Husband, president, reported on the interview granted by Mr. Rogers to a Chamber of Commerce committee. He said the minister had given a sympathetic hearing to requests for an airport and commercial airplane facilities here.

Mr. Rogers had also shown interest in the long-sought Jordan River-Port Renfrew Road and the trans-Canada extension from Sproat Lake to Tofo.

The aviation committee reported favorable progress in their endeavor to arrange for a landing field on Lower Vancouver Island.

Had High Opinion Of Own Writing
LONDON, Nov. 23.—William Henry Baxter, wealthy writer on social hygiene, believed his writings were so important that when he died recently at the age of eighty-six he left almost his entire fortune, about $1,335,000, to be used for the publication and distribution of his books as widely as possible.

Baxter described his works as "more important than any form of our present day civilization or repair." (19,070,061), up 0.7 per cent.

TO ILLUMINATE BUSINESS AREA

Junior Chamber Plans Colored Lights for Festive Period Here

Victoria's downtown area will be illuminated with colored lights during the Christmas period and already arrangements have been completed for the lighting of certain portions of the business section, the Junior Chamber of Commerce was advised last night by Vernon Ridgway, chairman of the lighting committee, and president T. E. Watkins. Broad Street, from Yates to Port Street, and Yates Street, from Blanshard to Douglas Streets, is the area for which merchants have promised contributions that it may be lighted. It was anticipated the entire length of downtown Douglas Street would be subscribed by December 7, the next meeting night.

CELEBRATION LIGHTS
It was explained these lights will be used again next year as a portion of the many streamers planned by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as its contribution to the anniversary celebrations here. During that time, colored lights will be showing for about forty nights, it was stated. According to present plans, there will be three streamers in each block, each of a different color scheme.

To subscribe funds for this purpose, it was stated that each merchant was being approached to contribute a nominal sum. Merchants were assessed per front foot—it was announced. General satisfaction over the entire lighting plan was expressed by members.

Eight committees, each being responsible for a certain section of the city.

Trustee P. E. George, reporting for the radio committee, stated it was confident Victoria would secure a new deal as far as the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation was concerned. He was confident that Mrs. Nellie McClung, Victoria representative on the new radio board, would press for better facilities.

Major Gladstone Murray, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, advised the Junior Chamber he would appear as guest speaker at a luncheon here, although he would not be in this city before the new year.

Claude Belcher was introduced as a new member.

Keep Faith With The People of Canada

THRIFTY, hard-working, conscientious citizens are the backbone of Canada.

They are the real owners of the bonds that finance the Governments of the nation—federal, provincial and municipal.

It is their savings that are invested in the mortgages that build the homes and develop the farms and industries of the Dominion.

Three and a half million of such citizens have banded themselves together as policyholders in the great co-operative business of Life Insurance.

Through their hard-earned savings, these policyholders have built up an insurance estate of over six billion dollars for themselves and their dependants.

To protect this estate, they have two billion dollars invested in the best securities that Canada, its governments and municipalities, its farms and industries, have to offer.

Every section of the Dominion has its share of these millions of dollars that policyholders have invested in bonds and mortgages. Other millions have been similarly invested by trust, mortgage, loan and banking institutions, whose funds also represent the savings of millions of individual Canadians.

On behalf of its policyholders, and other institutions and organizations whose investments represent the hard-earned savings of thrifty citizens, Life Insurance expects that the terms upon which these bonds were sold, and these mortgages accepted, shall be observed.

Where the borrower is willing but unable to pay, a policy of adjustment should prevail. Such adjustments have been made again and again during recent years.

Legislation that cancels public and private debts, regardless of the debtor's ability to pay, is not in accordance with British tradition, which has always afforded an equal measure of justice to both creditor and debtor.

COMMITTEE RESERVES JUDGMENT ON APPEAL to come within either the Dominion or the provincial clause of the constitution.

OF ONE MIND

It was an outstanding instance of the Dominion and the provinces being of one mind, and it was a pity it should seem to have been discouraged. The plan was already working and it should never have gone to the Supreme Court. He asked the Privy Council if they could not approve of the whole act to approve of as many sections as they could and declare them valid, section by section, as though they had been so many separate enactments. Their lordships laughed at the suggestion.

IN A LARGE SENSE

Lord Atkin, a privy councillor, said during consideration of the previous appeal that Canada could make treaties in a large sense. But a question might arise whether in Canada by reason of its written constitution the executive power of making treaties could be exercised except in the name of the Crown. Legislation must be examined to see if it came in the class which the constitution left to the provinces. He said it seemed to touch "property and civil rights" which were in the provincial sphere.

GENERAL PROPOSITION

Lord Macmillan said: "You formulate some such general proposition as this: 'namely, neither the Dominion nor the provincial executive can, by its own active-diplomatic or otherwise extend the legislative power of the Dominion or the provinces.'"

The spokesman for British Columbia said Section 122 of the British North America Act gave the Canadian Government power to perform obligations of the Dominion or the provinces toward foreign countries, but this must be done as part of the British Empire in Imperial treaties.

VANCOUVER FOG HIDES BANDITS

Two Grocery Stores Robbed
And Furs Stolen After Window Smashed

VANCOUVER, Nov. 23.—Working under a blanket of the thickest fog Vancouver has experienced in years, armed bandits tonight held up two grocery stores and escaped with a total of $25 in cash, while a Grandview district furrier reported his lost furs valued at over $100 to a "smash and grab" thief.

Two men entered a Hornby Street grocery store, held up Mrs. Nobu Numata, a Japanese, at the point of a gun and rifled the cash register of $15 in bills and silver.

A few minutes later two men, whom police said they believed to be the same pair, raided the Pender Grocery Store of T. Mort and escaped with $10.

J. Shiroki, proprietor of a Grandview fur store, told police he discovered his window had been smashed and two silver and two red fox furs were missing. The window was smashed while Shiroki was in the store but did not hear the crash, he told police.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

EPILEPSY MAY BE DUE TO INJURY

Although many epileptic individuals can now be kept free of attacks, it is unfortunately true that despite a long and constant search for its cause it has not yet been found.

That starch and liquid foods increase attacks and fat foods seem to lessen their number is of course known.

That injury is responsible for some cases has been known to the medical profession for some years, and in searching for the cause the use of the X-ray in examining the inner side of the skull has been of help.

It has been thought that the injury occurred at birth or at an early age. It is interesting therefore to read of a case which came before the Workmen's Compensation Board in Tennessee, where a workman following an injury, began to suffer with attacks of epilepsy.

The worker, a young man who had always been well and strong, fell and struck his head against an iron radiator. He was unconscious for some hours. About a month later he developed symptoms of epilepsy and grew progressively worse. Attributing epilepsy to the fall, he instituted proceedings under the Workmen's Compensation Act of Tennessee, and the trial court judgment in his favor. The employer appealed this decision, contending that the epilepsy caused rather than resulted from the fall—a natural thing to happen.

However, "there was evidence that he had never before had any head injury or shown any signs of epilepsy." Expert witnesses testified that the epilepsy may have resulted from the injury to the brain due to the fall. The Supreme Court decision was: "When a well man, with no history suggestive of brain disease, suffers a severe head injury, and later develops brain trouble, without any intervening or apparent cause, it is only fair to lay the blame on the fall, and when medical experts testify that epilepsy may result from such an injury, the evidence is complete." Judgment in favor of the injured workman was given.

The point, then, is that where there have been no signs or history of any "nervous" symptoms and a strong healthy individual suddenly begins to have attacks of epilepsy, a search for an injury recent or in the past should be made.

Woman's Fear of Rheumatic Pains

One of the many troubles that afflict rheumatic sufferers is the difficulty of getting up and down stairs. Such a case was that of a woman before she started taking Sloan's Liniment.

I have been taking Sloan's Liniment for over 12 months—a half a year ago I had a very bad attack of rheumatism in my knees and back and also my head was getting very bad. I was very thankful to say it is no trouble at all and I scarcely have any pain in my head or back now. I have done for years.

Two of the ingredients of Sloan's Liniment are notable for their work in dissolving acids. Other ingredients of Sloan's Liniment are Nature to expel the dissolved acid from the system.

Mme. Archibald Speaker At Women's Club Dinner

National Night Celebrated by Victoria Business and Professional Women—Greetings Are Read From all Parts of Dominion

National Night was celebrated by the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club last evening, in keeping with clubs in the Federation of Business and Professional Women throughout the Dominion, and a large number of members and several special invited guests attended the dinner held at the Y.W.C.A.

Mrs. H. V. Bartholomew, the president, was in the chair and introduced to the guests as the soloist of the evening, Mrs. John Cleri, who sang two charming solos, "Le Baiser" (Gloria Thomas) and "Red Tree, Sad Heart" (Del Rio). Miss Brumpton played the piano accompaniments.

MESSAGES OF GREETING

The national vice-president, Miss Margaret Clay, read a number of messages sent by sister clubs in the Dominion, including Halifax, Montreal, Winnipeg, Brandon, Edmonton, Hanna, Calgary, Sherbrooke, P.Q., Hamilton, St. Catherine's, Windsor, Niagara Falls, Ottawa, Guelph and Chatham, and also a greeting from Miss Kate McLaren, at present in Chicago, which gave great delight to members of the club. Each message expressed a wish for greater fellowship, co-operation and broader vision.

Miss Audrey Alexandra Brown, a guest at the dinner, recited one of her own poems.

SPEAKS OF FRANCE

After dinner, the members and their friends adjourned to the sitting-room, where Madame Howard Archibald gave an intimate and most fascinating talk on impressions gathered from her recent visit to France, her native country, dealing with her subject from the point of view of "Highlights of History in France as Affecting Modern Living." She pointed out how age-long tradition was having its effect on life today, of the changed atmosphere of France in general and of Paris in particular. Personal anecdotes illustrated the speaker's points.

WOMEN HAVE NO VOTE

An earnest plea was being made for woman's suffrage in France, Madame Archibald said. Considerable advance had been made in the appointment by Monsieur Blum of three women as cabinet ministers. The serious situation arising from conflicting rumors, political unrest and suspicion of other nations was touched upon by the speaker. The fall of the franc would doubtless mean hardship for the people of France, she said, adding that the benefits would include the almost inevitable return of the tourist trade and improvement in France's export trade.

Mrs. D. McTavish, in moving the vote of thanks to Madame Archibald, spoke of the club's appreciation of such an address, which gave to all who heard it a broader outlook, a greater understanding of France and sympathy with her in her difficulties.

It was announced that the club would hold a Christmas tree on December 5, the afternoon party to be in charge of Miss Morton and the evening bridge party under the direction of Mrs. Rose.

On Thursday, Miss Fox and Miss Livingston will be hostesses at the evening social.

A banquet and entertainment for the Boys' Club of the Metropolitan Church was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Harris, Bayview Avenue, Tuesday evening, and their friends attended.

After the banquet Terry Carlow, on behalf of the group, thanked the hostess, and Lorne Fuller presented her with a bouquet of flowers from the boys.

PLAN SERVICE FOR SEAFARERS

Hope Thanksgiving Rites at Christ Church Sunday Will Be Annual Event

The Bishop of Columbia, the dean and wardens of the cathedral will inaugurate an annual Thanksgiving service for seafarers, to be held on the Sunday nearest to St. Andrew's Day. It will form part of the evening service which begins at 7:30 o'clock and will be based on the special service used each year at St. Paul's Cathedral. This year the day falls on November 29. The sermon will be preached by the Rev. J. W. Leighton, chaplain of the Mission to Seamen at Vancouver.

It is desired to read out a "Roll of Honor" containing the names of all seafaring residents in Victoria and district who have died since St. Andrew's Day 1935. Relatives are asked to send in writing such names to Major F. V. Longstaff, 50 King George Terrace, who is compiling the list.

INVITED TO SERVICE

There are numerous families in Victoria who draw their sustenance from the sea through working on ships, repairing ships, shore office work, and the endless specialized professions which make for the safety and comfort of crews and passengers. All these are heartily invited to attend the service and to sit where they like as there will be no special seats reserved.

It may be of interest to know that the C.P.R. house flag, received by the late Bishop Schofield from Captain C. D. Neroni, has been flown on the "Tees" quays Salvage Queen, this summer and will be received by the cathedral authorities at the service, and shipped by the side of the C.P.R. house flag. A former officer of the C.P.R. Co. asked to write in Major Longstaff as soon as possible.

NEED GREATER CONTRIBUTIONS

Rev. Dr. Robert Laird, Toronto, Appeals to Clergy and Laymen.

An impassioned appeal for greater contributions to the missionary and maintenance fund of the church was made by Rev. Dr. Robert Laird, Toronto, treasurer of the United Church of Canada, when he addressed a luncheon meeting of the clergy and laymen of the church yesterday in Spence's Cafe.

Rev. Gerald R. Craig, Toronto, editor-in-chief of The Outlook, who is accompanying Dr. Laird on his nation-wide tour, explained that the policies of the church organization were to impact wisdom, direction and sanity; further the causes of the church, and warn against the growth of provincialism.

"There is no need to remind you that our missionary enterprise is the very heart of the church," Dr. Laird said. He defined the missionary field as "any district where God was unknown." In the United Church's eight missionary fields, a profound impression was being made, but the need for more money was critical.

CURIAL EXPENDITURES
"One of our difficulties today is the unwillingness on the part of so many to accept responsibility," the speaker charged. In seven years expenditures have been cut from $4,000,000 to $2,400,000, he explained. When the church celebrates its tenth anniversary, the first action was to curial expenditures by $121,000.

Speaking of the need for funds to provide thirty additional ministers for the new mining areas of Canada and elsewhere Dr. Laird asked: "Has this reduction been the result of economic necessity or spiritual betrayal?" He felt that members of the United Church throughout Canada were guilty of the latter. Their contributions at the present time were slightly ahead of last year's offerings to the general fund.

Fulllest Details of Power-Driven Gun Turret Published

British Invention for War Planes Has Caused Big Advance in Accuracy of Fire From Guns Mounted in Aircraft

LONDON, Nov. 23.—First details are released for publication of the power-driven gun turret, the British invention which, first installed in the Boulton-Paul Overstrand medium bomber, has caused a great advance in the accuracy of fire from free gun-mounted in airplanes.

Today, largely because of the success of the Qverstrand equipment, the manually operated gun mounting, which makes extravagant demands on the physique and endurance of the gunner, is obsolete, and new multi-seat warplanes now in production for Britain's expanded

The turret fitted in the Overstrand is located in the extreme nose of the fuselage, where it is held in place by a pin mounted in between

Anger and Humbert consists in a cylinder with domed ends, which is covered almost entirely in transparent material, mounted at its base in a bearing carried from a bracket, built into the front fuselage frame and supported further by a special roller-bearing that only partly surrounds the upper extremity of the cylindrical body, but which effectively holds it in a cradle as provided by making the upper part of the top of the cylinder a dome. Power to operate the turret is got from an engine-driven six-cylinder air compressor, which keeps a set of compressed air bottles charged to a pressure of 200 pounds to the square inch. In the event of failure of the engine to which the system is linked, the bottle capacity is sufficient to operate the turret for

Within the turret is a pivoted gun arm, carrying a Lewis gun the barrel of which projects through a vertical slot extending the whole depth of the turret and allowing the gun to be moved over the entire vertical range. The gunner sits within the turret on a seat supported on a hydraulic ram which is connected to a pair of smaller rams connected to the elevator.

The two sets of rams and the leverage of the second set about the gun arm pivot are so arranged that the gunner's weight just balances that of the gun arm, the gun and gun.

Adjustment of the leverage of the rams coupled to the gun arm permits accurate control of the degree of balance between gunner and gun.

A reversible pneumatic motor geared to the turret, provides power to rotate the turret bodily in its bearings, thereby training the gun in response to pressure exerted on the handle by the gunner as he follows his target through the gun-sights. In this way rapid movement of the gun vertically and horizontally follows upon exertion by the gunner of the small muscular efforts applied in the normal pro-

"Just my luck" was the growl that arose from the West player in today's hand. "I've waited for three months to get a chance to make a particular play, and when it finally came along, what happened? I had to be playing against you, and you found a way to wriggle out."

The object of his remarks, the South player, grinned and smoothed his friendly enemy's ruffled feelings. It was tough luck of a sort that does not often occur.

ARE YOU ON THE BORDERLINE OF ACTUAL SICKNESS?

Constipation Causes Discomfort, May Lead to More Serious Troubles

You may have days, perhaps even weeks, when you feel below par. Not sick enough to go to bed, but certainly not at your best. The trouble may be with your diet. Poorly balanced meals can affect your physical condition.

Meals which lack proper "bulk," for instance, may lead to common constipation. Continued neglect of this condition causes discomfort, may lead to headaches, poor appetite, listlessness.

Guard against common constipation. Make sure the meals you eat contain plenty of "bulk." Kellogg's All-Bran is a generous source of effective "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, and gently cleanses the system.

Two tablespoonfuls daily, with milk or cream, are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require All-Bran offener. Serve All-Bran either as a cereal, or cooked into muffins, breads, etc. Eat it regularly for regular habits.

All-Bran is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk."

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 23. — The Netherlands today joined the currency alignment agreement with Britain, the United States and France.

NEW CANDIDATE FOR ALDERMAN

Harold O. Simpson, 1622 Camosun Street, Enters Council Seat Contest

A new candidate for election to the City Council as an alderman, Harold O. Simpson, 1622 Camosun Street, secured his nomination papers yesterday. A. Victor King, who was reported as considering entering the contest, announced last evening he was definitely not in the field.

An ex-serviceman, Mr. Simpson has resided in the city for the past seventeen years and has been a taxpayer for ten years. It is his first entry into the field of municipal politics.

During the next two years the City of Victoria will be faced with grave issues, and it is the duty of an alderman to work hard in the interests of the vast majority, the small taxpayers," Mr. Simpson declared. "As I conceive it, the principal duty of an alderman is to supervise the spending of the taxpayers' money in a wise way. If voters place their confidence in me, I will do everything in my power to see that this is carried out," he stated.

OTHERS IN FIELD

So far Mayor David Lerming is the only candidate for the majority. Those seeking seats on the City Council besides Mr. Simpson are ex-Aldermen John A. Worthington, Mrs. Alice McGregor, Alderman James Adam, Alderman Walter Loney, W. Lloyd Morgan, ex-Alderman Alex Peden, John Neary and John Day. There are five seats to be filled for two-year terms and one seat for a one-year term.

No new candidates have appeared for three seats on the School Board. Trustees Percy E. Genge, Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin and W. C. Moreau, K.C., all seek re-election.

MONEY, SHOTGUN AND REVOLVER ARE TAKEN

Theft of a revolver, shotgun, $17.80 in cash, gold watch and chain, English sovereign coin, alarm clock, fountain pen, ash trays and other articles from her home, was reported by Mrs. Dorothy Boyer, 2640 Mount Stephen Avenue, to city police yesterday.

Goss' second-hand store was entered over the week-end, but the amount stolen has not yet been reported to police.

FISHERMEN WERE BUSY UP-ISLAND

Endorsed Proposal to Prohibit Fishing With Nets—Oppose Reduction of Pileards and Herring

NANAIMO, Nov. 23. — Approval of the proposal to prohibit fishing with nets between Seymour Narrows and Cape Mudge, was approved at the concluding session of the meeting of the British Columbia Trollers' Association, Saturday evening. The gathering endorsed a proposal which permits cod and salmon fishermen to take herring for bait by means of nets, and opposed the reduction of herring and pileards.

The proposal to close salmon fishing during May in the Gulf of Georgia, was endorsed, with a recommendation added that the opening date for blue backs be left at June 1.

The association favored a resolution that money hitherto used for hatchery purposes be used for more protection in the rivers and creeks of the province, also that the Provincial Government be asked to use some of the grant for trails and roads on Vancouver Island, particularly Oyster and Little Qualicum Rivers.

A petition to do away with all fish traps in the province received unanimous support of the meeting and the president and vice-president were instructed to sign this petition.

W. Taylor was named president, Howard Ormond, vice-president, and Mrs. W. T. Taylor, secretary.

MATTER OF ECONOMICS

Restoration of Wage Reduction Would Play Important Part in Recovery

MONTREAL, Nov. 23. — The Railways Wage Conciliation Commission at its opening session today heard Howard B. Chase, representative of labor, charge it was "unfair" for employees of Canadian National Railways to contribute 10 per cent of their wages to maintenance of the system in addition to taxes they were obliged to pay.

The hearing to decide upon a request from some 100,000 standard employees of various Canadian railroads for restoration of a 10 per cent wage reduction opened under the chairmanship of Mr. Justice A. K. MacLean, with Fred Bancroft, Oakville, Ont., and W. Sanford Evans, Winnipeg, completing the board.

RELATES HISTORY

Chase, assistant grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, gave testimony throughout the entire session, dealing with the history of increases and decreases in railroad workers' wages. He spoke of the Canadian Pacific Railway and said, "Employees contend that in addition to general economic improvements in the Dominion, results of operation of the Canadian Pacific Railways for the years 1931 to 1935 inclusive, fully warrant a return of the 10 per cent wage reduction."

"We do not believe it can be said that any concern which has come through this depression without falling in any year to show a rise in excess of its fixed charges, even with an increase in those fixed charges of $5,000,000 during the period, is not in position to discontinue the 10 per cent pay roll deduction."

NO JUSTIFICATION

Of the Canadian National Railways he said the conciliation board could not possibly decline "to recognize the justice of the claim that the deduction should be discontinued."

"The employees should not be asked to contribute by way of taxes to the support of these lines and at the same time be asked to make further contribution in the way of a 10 per cent pay cheque deduction," declared Chase.

Restoration of full union wages to employees was a "matter of social and economic progress for the Dominion as a whole," Chase said. "The now existing wage deduction agreements should and must be terminated."

The dispute between workers and railway workers, he added, and on the basis of the average family of five had direct bearing "on the purchasing power, health, happiness and comfort of about 500,000 men, women and children scattered throughout every part of the Dominion."

Boston, Detroit And Americans in Hockey Victories

Gain Triumphs Over Week-End in National Hockey League—Bruins Beat Hawks While Wings Take Measure of Leafs—New York Squad Noses Out Montreal Maroons to Hold Lead

By A. E. PULFORD

Canadian Press Staff Writer

There may be more worried men in the hockey world today than on any other day. The Bruins, Detroit, and the Americans have won their way into the top of the league. The Bruins, Detroit, and the Americans have won their way into the top of the league. The Bruins, Detroit, and the Americans have won their way into the top of the league.

Here the schedule is nearly three weeks old. The Bruins, Detroit, and the Americans have won their way into the top of the league. TO STAND PAT
Normally the plight of the usually high-ranking teams would call for replacements, wholesale shipping over the river to the minor leagues and whatnot. But the Bruins, Detroit, and the Americans have won their way into the top of the league.

SMYTHE CONTENDS THAT THE MANY penalties Red Horner incurs do his team no harm because the rest of the players work that much harder when the big redoubt is put off. But that didn't work out at Detroit last night. While Horner was on

EAST VS. WEST FINAL IN AIR

Canadian Grid Play-Off All Depends on Decision of Roughriders

SASKATOON, Nov. 23.—Unless Regina Roughriders reconsider their decision to play without the services of their five imported players, there will be no East vs. West final for the Grey Cup this year.

Professor E. A. Hardy, president of the Canadian Rugby Union, announced tonight that a mail vote of his executive was four to two in favor of the decision. The five imported players, who were barred from the game, are: John De Gruchy, W. C. Pauls, George Ballard and R. W. Hewitson had voted in favor of the decision. MAKES REQUEST
In announcing the decision of his executive, Professor Hardy stated that he had requested the Roughriders to reconsider their decision and to play the East without the five imported players in question. The Western champions agree to this, he said, no chance of a Dominion final being played this fall.

During the past two weeks the Regina Roughriders have favorably considered the suggestion that they not play the Eastern winners unless they are permitted to use the five imported players. The players in question are: Dean Griffing, coach of the club, Fritz Pflieger, Fred Ray, Lou Churchill and Jim Lander, quarterback of the team.

ENGLISH RIDERS SHOW FINE FORM

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—Great Britain swept to victory in the international army officers' jumping event at the Royal Winter Fair Horse Show tonight when Lieut. J. A. Talbot-Ponsonby rode Kismet to a win in the 3500 military jumping stake.

Kismet's victory came on a magnificent clear performance in a second jump-off with a team-mate, Blue Dawn, ridden by Major A. L. Cameron, and Limerick Lane, mount of Capt. P. A. Aherne, Irish Free State.

Roxana, Canadian mount of Lieut. Marshall Cleveland, made eight faults in the first jump-off, to lead the home forces in the contest.

DENNY SHUTE WINS P.G.A. GOLF HONORS

Slender Boston Professional Defeats Jimmy Thomson In Final

PINEHURST, N.C., Nov. 23.—It was a fairly tale come true yesterday as Denny Shute, Boston, defeated husky Jimmy Thomson, Shawnee-on-Deleware, Pa. 3 and 2, for the championship of the United States Professional Golfers' Association.

At the start of the final thirty-six holes there were not many who gave the frail thirty-two-year-old Shute a chance against the rugged twenty-eight-year-old Thomson.

But Denny cared not at all when a gallery of more than 1,000 whooped in amazement as Thomson outdrove him at times by as much as sixty yards. Within 150 yards of the green Shute was deadly.

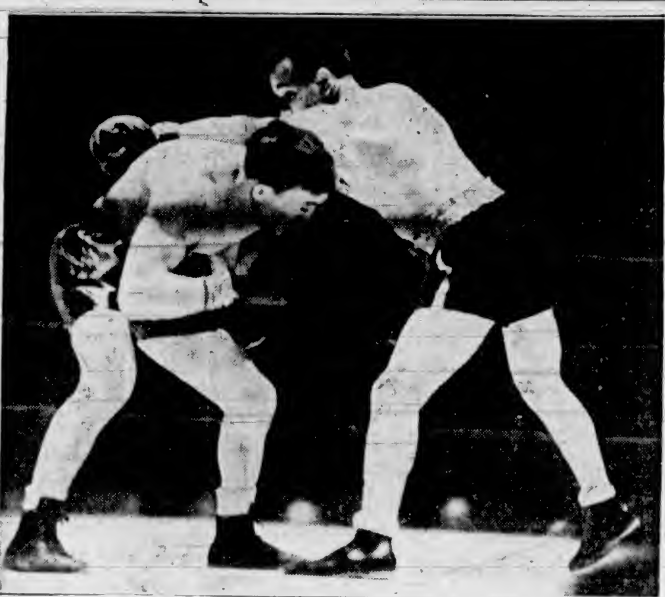

When he wasn't splitting the pin and hooked or sliced into a trap, he came out with delicate finesse.

SUCCEEDS REVOLTA

The Boston thin man, who succeeds Johnny Revolta, Chicago, and has clinched a berth on the 1937 In-Herker Hurricane, Lou Ambers, in Madison Square Garden, in New York City. Ambers, a lightweight titleholder, put up a game battle, but Jimmy had much the best of it, taking seven out of the ten rounds.

This victory puts McLarnin up near the top again and in line for another welterweight title bout with the champion, Barney Ross, Chicago Hebrew.

Jimmy McLarnin, veteran of the Pacific wars from Vancouver, took the wind out of the sails of the Herkimer Hurricane, Lou Ambers, in Madison Square Garden, in New York City. Ambers, a lightweight titleholder, put up a game battle, but Jimmy had much the best of it, taking seven out of the ten rounds.

All-Star Amateur Team Named by Lawson Little

Places Johnny Goodman in Top Place in World-Wide Selections—Two English, One Australian and One Canadian Gain Places

By LAWSON LITTLE

Because of frequent inquiries of who are the best amateurs in the world, I have composed my world-wide amateur team. The list includes players from the United States, Great Britain, Australia and Canada. In selecting this team, I have used four points upon which I judged the players.

1. Consistency and dependability of the player and his game, beginning after the player has made his debut to national or international golf. This eliminates the flashy player who is up and down the next.

2. My judgment as to how hard the player is to beat. This embodies his tournament temperament.

3. The actual tournament performance comes next. Some players can shoot record scores in the practice rounds, giving old man par a number of shellekins, but in tournament it is a different story. Titles rarely must be given important consideration.

4. Lastly, I have considered shot-making ability. This takes into consideration the number and quality of the various kinds of shots the golfer is able to play.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR FIGHT EXPECTED TO BE MADE NEXT WEEK

Officials Rapidly Going Ahead With Plans for Atlantic City Clash Between Brown Bomber and Champion for February 20—Brad-dock to Appear Before Commission

By B. B. BRITTON

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Only three weeks short of fighting time, James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion, came back from the south today to learn that an Atlantic City fight with Joe Louis is all but in the bag.

Lean and bronzed from six weeks at Hot Springs, Ark., where he was cured of arthritis, Braddock looked the picture of health. He was loaded down with bags and golf clubs as he hurried away to New Jersey for a reunion with his family.

"I weigh only 195 and feel great," he said. "I am as hard as nail. I've been doing preliminary work at Hot Springs, and three weeks of gym work and boxing will put me in shape for Louis, Max Schmeling or anybody else."

With these preliminaries out of the way, it is expected the Louis-Braddock fight will be closed early next week, probably by February 20.

If the Atlantic City fight goes through, and there is every indication that it will, Joe Louis, the colored sensation from Detroit, will be crowned champion of the world.

As the bout is going to be a 12-round non-staydown affair, no matter how bad Braddock is beaten, it is on his feet at the end of the tenth he will be still heavyweight champion.

"I'll not only fight Louis if I get the chance, but I'll knock him out," Braddock said. "He'll be just as easy for the style I'll use against him as he was for Schmeling. He's just as soft for a good right as he ever was." He will begin regular drills at a gymnasium in Atlantic City.

Braddock will appear before the New York State Athletic Commission Friday to sign to defend his title against Schmeling next June. Good $3,000 as a guarantee will be examined by the commission's physicians.

The commission has indicated that once the champion carries out his promise to sign for the fight, it will adopt a hands-off attitude with respect to his out-of-the-state activities.

With these preliminaries out of the way, it is expected the Louis-Braddock fight will be closed early next week, probably by February 20.

Braddock will appear before the New York State Athletic Commission Friday to sign to defend his title against Schmeling next June. Good $3,000 as a guarantee will be examined by the commission's physicians.

The commission has indicated that once the champion carries out his promise to sign for the fight, it will adopt a hands-off attitude with respect to his out-of-the-state activities.

With these preliminaries out of the way, it is expected the Louis-Braddock fight will be closed early next week, probably by February 20.

If the Atlantic City fight goes through, and there is every indication that it will, Joe Louis, the colored sensation from Detroit, will be crowned champion of the world.

As the bout is going to be a 12-round non-staydown affair, no matter how bad Braddock is beaten, it is on his feet at the end of the tenth he will be still heavyweight champion.

"I'll not only fight Louis if I get the chance, but I'll knock him out," Braddock said. "He'll be just as easy for the style I'll use against him as he was for Schmeling. He's just as soft for a good right as he ever was." He will begin regular drills at a gymnasium in Atlantic City.

Last Season's Scoring Champion and Member of Montreal Club Setting Pace—Aurie and Barry Head United States Section—Alex Levin—sky Tops Penalty Parade

MONTREAL, Nov. 23 (AP)—Dave "Sweeney" Schrier, Calgary sharpshooter who led National Hockey League scoring last year, had last none of that goal-getting acumen and tonight he appeared at the top of the league's first issue of statistics along with Bob Gracie of Montreal.

The New York American winger and Gracie each have seven points. Schrier compiled his total with three goals and four assists. Gracie helped out with assists on six goals and scored once himself.

Larry Aurie of Detroit Red Wings has the greatest number of goals to his credit with five in six games. An assist boosted his point total to six and left him tied for second place with his teammate, Marty Barry, who scored one goal and five assists.

Five players tied for third position with five points each. Bob Davidson of Toronto Maple Leafs and his teammate Nick Metz, Neil Colville of New York Rangers, Howie Morenz of Canadiens and Art Chapman of New York Americans.

Penalty honors, if they can be called such, went to Alex "Mine Boy" Levin of Chicago Black Hawks. Without a scoring point, Levin has spent eighteen minutes in the penalty box, followed closely by Allan Shields of Americans and Earl Seibert of Chicago with seventeen minutes.

CRICKET MATCH TO END TODAY

Marylebone Club Has Fighting Chance to Avert Innings Defeat

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 23 (AP)—The touring Marylebone Cricket Club team has a sporting chance to avert an innings defeat in its match with an Australian eleven hitting up 544 runs for eight wickets, the Aussies lead by 246 runs, the Englishmen's first innings netting 288. The match concludes tomorrow.

Battling with monumental patience, C. L. Badcock, South Australian star, provided the feature of today's play. He made 142 runs in a shade more than five hours, his hits including twenty-four fours. Badcock gave three chances in making the highest score against the visitors in the present tour.

With their score standing at 221 for two wickets at the close of play Saturday, the Aussies defended stubbornly today and the first thirty minutes produced only seven runs. Badcock was ably seconded by Don Tallon, young Queensland wicket-keeper, who is looked upon as the logical successor to W. A. Oldfield, Australia's veteran stumper, and W. A. Brown, another Queensland player.

In Saturday's play Don Bradman, Commonwealth captain, rolled up 63 runs, his hits including eight fours.

CLIPPERS AND LIONS IN TIE

Oakland Plays to Two-All Score With Vancouver Ice Hockey Team

VANCOUVER, Nov. 23 (AP)—Guy Patrick's Vancouver Lions and the Oakland Clippers battled to a 2-2 tie in the Pacific Coast Hockey League fixture here tonight.

It was the second drawn game the two teams have played. They ended 2-2 at Oakland last Saturday night.

The result put Lions into a tie with the Seattle Sea Hawks at the top of the league standings.

Scheduled to start at 8:30 p.m., the game was set back half an hour by officials to give customers time to make their way through one of the city's densest fogs of years to the stadium floor.

LIONS IN LEAD

Early on, the Lions had a two-goal margin on markers by young Bill Carie and the veteran Jimmy Arnot, but Hank Deke and Webster slapped in one each before the middle session ended to tie the score. There was no more scoring as the contest settled on even terms through the third and extra session.

Carie scored through the Clippers at the eleven-minute mark in the opening frame to put Lions up.

Four minutes after the second period, Harry Rumbold slipped Arnot a pass and the husky defender bucked the Oakland goal twice.

Deke, former Lion, pushed one past Percy Jackson in the Vancouver nets to cut the Californians' deficit after sixteen minutes of play and in the final thirty seconds Ron Moffat eased the tie across the goalmouth for Webster to bat home the tying marker.

Kimberly to Play

HALIFAX, Nov. 23 (AP)—Frank Lordly, manager of the Halifax Forum, said today he was negotiating with the manager of Kimberly Dancers, and it was "entirely likely" the Allan Cup holders would play an All-Star Halifax squad before they sail for Europe on an exhibition tour.

Keeling Tries Hurdling

Melville "Buck" Keeling, veteran winger of New York Rangers, seems to be keeling over the goal in his efforts to whip the puck past Goalie Roy Worters, in a Rangers-American inter-city game, but, judging from Worters' expression, the puck has escaped the hustling Mr. Keeling. He goes crashing into the goalpost while Roy attends to more important matters—such as keeping his eye on the rubber. Amerks won the game, 2-1.

OARSMEN TO BATTLE NAVY ON SATURDAY

Rugby Fifteens Will Meet in Play-Off Fixture at Macdonald Park

Deadlocked in first place with six points apiece, Navy and J.B.A.A. oarsmen will meet Saturday at Macdonald Park, in a sudden-death fixture to decide the champions of the first half of the Barnard Cup series.

The game will headline the oval ball programme and promises to be keenly fought all of the way. In their first meeting the Bays trounced the sailors, 15-0, but since that time the Navy boys have gained three victories, including a 10-0 triumph over the oarsmen.

GUNNERS PLAY WANDERERS

In the Intermediate League the Oak Bay Wanderers-Fifth Brigade clash at Macdonald Park, lower field, should prove interesting. Gunners' highest scoring fifteen in the loop, will be out to hand the undefeated Oak Bay boys their initial setback. Last week the Canadian Scottish held the Wanderers to a scoreless draw.

The other intermediate fixture will see the Navy at home to Victoria College at the Admirals Road ground.

C. E. Ley will handle the whistle in the senior game. P. Willis will officiate at Esquimalt and B. McMillan will be in charge of the Wanderers-Gunners' clash.

All games will commence at 2:45 o'clock.

Security Prices Drop Sharply at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Stocks slipped over fresh European troubles in today's market and numerous leaders fell back fractions to about 7 points.

Transfers totalled 2,158,820 shares against 1,821,090 last Friday.

In the morning, Chrysler was off 1-2 points at 124 and General Motors gave up 2 at 69.

Merchandise stocks were resistant for a time as high hopes were held out for the biggest holiday spending in several years. Aircrafts were in demand for a brief period along with others. They retreated with others later.

Utilities, on the whole, were fairly resistant, not having had the advance of other departments. The majority, though, were behind minus signs at the finish.

Allied Chemical shares dropped 7 points at 227. Among lower losers were Union Pacific at 131-1/4 and Westinghouse 139. Amoco 49-1/4 and N.Y. Central 41-7/8.

American Telephone was ahead most of the day but slipped at the last for a net loss of 1-3/8 at 183-1/8. U.S. Rubber ended up 3-4 at 41-1/2.

Spurred ending of industrial confidence and rail links up the bond markets' balance and left the market less considerably lower at the close.

United States Governments were in supply at lower levels.

Polish, Italian and Belgian issues raised fractions to 3-1/2 points.

Jane Dixon Says:

THE WILL TO MAKE THE MOST OF EVERY SITUATION IN WHICH WE FIND OURSELVES, TO LEARN TO APPRECIATE ALL HUMAN EXISTENCE—THERE'S THE ANSWER TO JOYOUS LIVING.

Not where you live, but how you live, writes the measure of your happiness.

Wherever there is life, there is interest and opportunity. One finds the loneliest persons in the world existing in large cities. Contrariwise, hamlets abound those whose days are so full of zeal that they could use twice their number of waking hours and still be away behind schedule.

The will to take life in its stride, to make the most of every situation in which we find ourselves, to learn to appreciate all human existence whether in high places or low, metropolitan districts or whistle-stops—there's the answer to joyous living.

Dear Jane Dixon: I'm living in a town of about 150,000, having moved here from a large city.

The people are kindly, but small-town in their views and their ways. They offer me no mental stimulation.

I miss the fine art galleries and the lectures that afforded me so much inspiration and pleasure.

We have a few churches, but none like those in the metropolises.

SHE IS UNHAPPY NOW

I belong to a church here, but am not very congenial with the members, as they are all natives of this town, and I was raised in a different environment and do not understand them, nor they me. I'm not happy here, though I have a good home and all the comforts with means to live well.

What shall I do to adjust myself to a small town when I'm used to a large city?

Is it my fault that I'm not contented?—P. E. J.

Answer: Most certainly the fault is yours. A town of 150,000 population is a sizable city. Anyone who cannot find abundant interest, stimulation, activity among these human beings lacking in a sound intellectual, cultural and social basis.

I'm afraid your trouble is that you have placed yourself on the taking end instead of the giving end. The art galleries and lectures gave beauty and knowledge to you. Now it is your turn to radiate some of those benefits, to prove that they endowed you with a better appreciation of all phases of deeper understanding of all people.

As a matter of fact, very few great artists or scholars live and work in cities.

THE GREAT HAVE SIMPLE TASTES

They go back to the whistle-stop where they were born, or find a cabin on a hill-top or an abandoned farmhouse in a meadow or a cottage on Main Street; and they visit the crowded places only under the lash of necessity.

The greater we are the simpler our tastes.

Nobility and simplicity are hand-maidens.

As for your church, perhaps it isn't as fine and big and impressive as the city edifice, but the purpose of a church is to shelter God's worshippers, and I know of no more inspiring temple for the worship of God than a tree. If we enter a church with our hearts filled with love of God, how can we help but find his children gathered there congenial?

How can you adjust yourself to the small town and to small-town people?

By forgetting the size of the town and interesting yourself in the friends you can meet and make there or any place else on earth. If you will give friendship, you will never do it by practicing snobbery and drawing insidious comparisons.

Be thankful for your good home, your comfort, your safety, the well by entering with zeal and good humor into the life around you.

Thou shalt not Love

by Alma Sioux Scarberry

CHAPTER XXVIII

Suzie said thoughtfully, "Nothing mother, I—I mean it doesn't matter at all what Santa Claus brings me. Because we're very poor and I guess we need all our money so we won't starve."

"Why bless your heart," Maida laughed shakily, "Whatever put that idea into your head? We aren't that poor!"

"I guess I know how poor we are. But when I'm big I'll sell my poems and you won't have to cook and wash like a maid any more."

Maida took her daughter's hands tightly.

"Listen, Suzie, Kelvin, don't ever let me hear you say that again! Stop worrying your little head! I'm truly happy for the first time in my life. And do you know why, dear?"

"Why, mother?"

"Because my children love me, and because I'm going to be your real mother, darling. That's why. Mother has grown up."

Suzie reached up her hands and touched her mother's hair.

"I—I guess I know what you mean. You look awfully pretty, mother. I like your hair nice and plain like that. It—it's very becoming."

Maida held the child tightly. Josh walked in to hear her mother saying happily.

"Coming from you, precious, that's a lovely compliment. Now tell mother what you want Santa Claus to bring you. What would you rather have more than anything else in the world?"

Suzie leaned back, the old mischievous light dancing in her green eyes. She grinned at Josh.

"A nice husband for Josh. I been thinking that would about solve all our problems. But I don't want to have to move from this nice apartment. Because it was awful hard to try to hear everything that was going on in that other big house. I about run my legs off trying to be two places at once. I'd like to see anybody sneeze here without my hearing 'em! Yah! Yah! Yah!"

Kel ordered Suzie to bed for a half-hour's rest before the festivities. Lifting her carefully from the wheel-chair he placed her in the twin bed beside her mother's.

Josh paced when she saw the shrunken little legs under the nightie and robe. Maida hurried from the room to regain her self-control while Josh arranged the pillows and shaded the light.

"In a little while I'll trim the tree," Josh tried to sound cheerful. "I guess we'll distribute the presents while Kel and Line are here. Santa put in an early appearance this year."

"Yah, yah," Suzie agreed, grinning. "I saw about fifty-seven varieties of him coming over here. I guess one of his brothers dropped around. One of the skinny ones (uncle a hell!)"

"Tish, tish!" Josh laughed. "One would think you didn't believe in the old saint to hear you talking snootily around here."

"Oh, but I do. Josh giggled. "But he has got an awful large family, hasn't he?"

"You haven't changed much for the better," Josh hummed her happily. "I can see that."

Kel had come out. Suzie looked toward the door to make sure they were alone.

"Say," she asked in a stage whisper, "do you know something?"

"Now what?" Josh held her close. "Jake's got an awful crush on Kel, hasn't she?"

"Not to my knowledge. What makes you think so?"

"Oh, Josh, tish! You're blind. I guess I could see it when she came to the hospital. Every time she sees him she just gets all red and nervous, and she always tried to say funny things and pretend everything is just too kidding for words."

"You imagine too much," Josh turned her off.

"Maybe so," Josh smiled wisely, but I guess I know eyes, and know how to use 'em. It's awfully hard to make up my mind whether he's crazy about her too, though. Gosh, wouldn't it be wonderful if he was?"

"Kel is a very nice man. Josh agreed, and Suzie bent a keen ear to detect a note of worry in her voice. "But I'm sure you're wrong about Jake's being in love with her, and I hope you just keep your little nose out of it."

"Kel is a very nice man. Josh agreed, and Suzie bent a keen ear to detect a note of worry in her voice. "But I'm sure you're wrong about Jake's being in love with her, and I hope you just keep your little nose out of it."

SEEK EXEMPTION FROM NEW PLAN

Many Employees Ask to Be Allowed To Remain Out of Health Insurance Scheme

There are 200 firms in the Province of British Columbia with some 45,000 employees who claim exemption under the health insurance plan of the Government of the Province in view of their firms' existing schemes of their own in which they make a very effective little scheme.

The Provincial Government plan, which will become effective some time this coming year, will require a check-up to be made on the claimants. The claimants will have to be made out in this regard and a questionnaire will be sent to cover the information sought.

There have been about 60,000 employees in various lines of work in the Province who have been referred as liable to fall under the plan to be insured as far as the Health Insurance Act applies.

Do not be lukewarm towards any proposed social activity for it might be to your advantage to take an interest in it. Married couples, as well as those experiencing matrimonial hopes, must be careful that their imagination does not cause them to entertain suspicions that have no real reason to exist.

If a woman and November 24 is your birthday you may be inclined to undertake some of your friends' affairs. You might meet their friends and you might meet their friends. You might meet their friends. You might meet their friends.

PIONEER PASSES IN THE INTERIOR

John Fingal Smith Succumbs to Advance Age in Cranbrook

—Was Known Here

Word from Cranbrook received yesterday, told of the death of one of British Columbia's pioneers, John Fingal Smith, aged eighty-nine years. He was born on Prince Edward Island, the son of a pioneer Canadian family.

Educated as a teacher, Mr. Smith came to Victoria in 1875 and was an instructor in Bishop's College in various schools. In 1900 he went to Port Steele, probably the pioneer service from which he retired in 1918. Since that time he lived quietly with his wife, the former Miss Adelaide Bailey, in their Cranbrook home.

Mr. Smith was an original member of the British Columbia militia, and was prominent in Presbyterian Church circles. He was an executive officer of the Pioneer Association of East Kootenay.
